

"A Sibling Event"

What is it like to have a sibling who's developmentally delayed?

Film Festival And Discussion On Life With A Developmentally Delayed Sibling

Exceptional Needs Network is proud to present two special films designed to explore family life with a developmentally delayed child. Created by Keri Bowers and her sons Jace and Taylor, "Normal People Scare Me" and "The Sandwich Kid" explore the world of autism from the eyes of a child.

Taylor Cross, a teenager with autism, explains how he sees the world. Jace King, his brother, discusses how autism has affected his life, as the sibling to Taylor.

Free Admission

Saturday

September 27

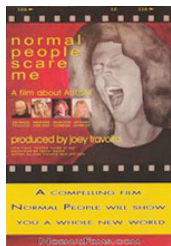

9:30 am – 12 Noon

Sponsored by ENN and made possible with a grant from Lawrence Livermore National Security, LLC.

Join us as ENN presents both films and Keri, Jace and Taylor share their experiences – live, on stage - with the audience. This special film festival is designed for siblings ages 7-17 and their families.

FREE of CHARGE

Arrive early to guarantee a seat

Saturday

September 27

9:30 am – 12 Noon

The Bankhead Theater

2400 First Street

Livermore, CA 94550

